- Macro-Economic Policies and Employment
- Technological Change and Employment

Submission of Papers: Papers along with a summary of appx. 500 to 750 words should be submitted online at www.isleijle.org/59isleconference. Alternatively, the papers may be emailed to conference.isle@gmail.com. Summaries of papers selected for the Conference will be published and distributed among the Conference participants. Selected papers would be considered for publication in the subsequent issues of the Indian Journal of Labour Economics during 2018, subject to peer review.

Best Paper Awards: Two awards, namely Ruddar Datt Memorial Award and Sanjay Thakur Young Labour Economist Award, carrying a prize money of Rs. 10,000 each, have been instituted for the best paper writers who are below 40 years of age. Scholars who wish their papers to be considered for these awards are requested to visit www.isleijle.org/59isleconference for submission guidelines. Please note that the papers under consideration for these awards should be presented by the writers themselves.

Surjit Singh Fellowship: The ISLE awards one Fellowship instituted in the memory of Dr. Surjit Singh, former Secretary of the Society, with a grant of Rs. 40,000 for preparing a research paper/monograph related to one of the Conference themes. Applications for this Fellowship are invited from scholars who are below 40 years of age. The application should contain a short proposal (about 1500 words) providing details of the research objectives, hypotheses, methodology and theoretical framework of the study. The proposal should be original and not be based on applicant's earlier works, including Ph.D. thesis. The application along with the proposal should be emailed to the ISLE Secretariat on conference.isle@gmail.com by 30 June 2017. The decision of award would be communicated by 21 July 2017. The awardee is expected to prepare a comprehensive draft research paper/monograph by the end of October 2017 and also make a presentation based on it during the Conference.
